Elementary Experiences^{SM}

These hands-on training programs are designed for families and their children (ages 7-12 years) who are struggling. Families will learn targeted skills together and receive a handout with ideas and resources to use at home. Adults are expected to participate in the program with their children. Siblings (ages 7-12 years) may also attend but must register separately. connectingforkids.org/elementary

Tech Tools for Learning E M

Is your child struggling in school? Would he or she benefit from an in-depth look at the various tech tools that iPads and Chromebooks have to offer to meet learning needs? This workshop, led by Jason Sepsi, Technology Director at Lawrence Lower School, will explore tech tools for elementary students, including Text to Speech, Dictation, Graphic Organizers and executive function tools. iPads will be used at the 1:00 pm session for children (ages 7-9) and Chromebooks will be used at the 2:30 pm session for students (ages 10-12). Devices will be provided.

Saturday, October 20, Sessions begin at 1:00 pm (7-9 years) and 2:30 pm (10-12 years)

Free Learning Disabilities Resource Guide

This month's Elementary Experiences, Tech Tools for Learning, will highlight a number of technologies designed to help children with learning differences, including specific learning disabilities, ADHD or executive functioning deficits. For more resources to support your child with a learning disability, visit our new learning disabilities guide online. The guide includes local experts' top four recommendations for support organizations, books and online resources. Visit:
