

Room 208's Weekly Newsletter

Week at a glance

math workshop	This will be our final week of graph explorations. On Friday we will take our Chapter 2 Assessment. The students will bring home their math review on Wednesday and it will be due on Friday.
Reading workshop	We are so excited to announce our nonfiction creepy Halloween unit! For the next two weeks the students will learn about different elements of Halloween such as pumpkins, spiders, bats, haunted houses, and the cities of the dead through nonfiction texts. We will practice the art of close reading and learn how to use context clues to help define unknown words. In addition, the students will continue to practice identifying the main ideas and causes and effects within a text.
writing workshop	The students will continue paragraph writing this week. We will continue to plan out our paragraphs, edit, and produce successful paragraphs!
science S.S.	We have transitioned into science this week! The students will be studying natural resources as well as how to conserve resources. We will use a variety of methods to retain information in the unit. We will use virtual labs, digital lessons, and perform a variety of experiments.
Foundations	This week we will learn how to add suffixes to words with a silent e. When a consonant suffix is added, it is simply added to the end of a word. If a vowel suffix is added to a vowel consonant e word, the e is dropped and the suffix is added. In addition, we will revisit adding suffixes to 1-1-1 words. Please work with your child at home by using the Foundations homework packets. These concepts are tricky and the students need many opportunities to master these skills! Sound Alike Words: mind and mined find and fined Cursive Letters: q
