

Recipe Opportunity

Instructions:

- Think about what we are studying in science, social studies, and reading.
- Look in cookbooks and/or on the computer to find a recipe that makes a connection to a topic we are learning about.
- With permission from a grown-up, and help if needed, make the recipe. You may make enough for you to enjoy for lunch or a snack, or you may make enough for the whole class to enjoy. (The BC price is the same either way).
- If you are making the recipe for the class, please provide a class set of ingredient lists so that those children with food allergies will be able to know for sure what is in your creation.
- If you choose to let the whole class taste your recipe, be sure to come prepared with utensils, serving tools, plates, and napkins.
- Please inform Mrs. Wilhelmy a day or more in advance if you plan to bring your food in to the classroom so that we may make room in our schedule to enjoy your hard work.
- Please attach a copy of the recipe to this page.

➤ Your name _____

➤ Name of recipe _____

➤ How does your recipe connect to something we are studying in science, social studies, or reading _____

Adult signature and comments: X _____