RRMS Students Stop the Hate and Win $10,000

Rocky River Middle School has been awarded a $10,000 grant from the Maltz Museum of Jewish Heritage as part of the museum's annual Stop the Hate: Youth Speak Out essay contest. The annual contest is open to all students in grades 6-12 in seven area counties, including Cuyahoga. This year's theme was, "What would you do to fight discrimination?" Students were asked to reflect, in 500 words or less, about a time they witnessed an act of discrimination or hate, how they responded, and how they might change their response the next time. The top prize was a $40,000 scholarship, up to $10,000 per year for up to 4 years.

This year, the contest sponsors introduced three new prizes of $10,000 each that were specifically for schools rather than students. Winners were the school with the grand-prize winning entry and one of the eight Cleveland Public schools chosen to participate in Stop the Hate: Youth Sing Out. The third new prize, and the one Rocky River Middle School won, was for having the highest percentage of student essays entered in the contest. Over 500 RRMS students entered.

Two RRMS students also submitted winning essays. Nolan Weaver took third place in the 7th grade category and Thomas Schill won first place in the 8th grade category. They received their prizes at the annual contest celebration, which was held on March 12. Ms. Jenny Doran, who is Nolan's English teacher, and Ms. Michelle Buttari, who teaches Thomas, accompanied their students to the celebration, as did principal Mrs. Megan Rose.

Fourth Graders Gone Fishin’

Allison Gifford shows her catch to Kensington fitness teacher Tim Shreve at the 17th Annual 4th Grade Fishing Trip.

On Friday, May 23, the Kensington Intermediate School fourth graders went on the 17th Annual 4th Grade Fishing Trip to Bradstreet Landing. The bright, sunny weather matched the students’ moods, even when the fish weren’t biting.

Retired RRCS physical education teacher, Mrs. Neitzel, pointed out that this annual trip is a cross-curriculum event. “[Physical education instructor] Mr. Shreve has taught the kids to fish, which is perfect for summer,” given the proximity of Lake Erie’s fishing opportunities to Rocky River students.

Students also learned about the science and biology of Lake Erie, including the life cycle of the lake and different species of fish. “When we’re here,” explains fourth-grade teacher Mr. Judson, “we talk about landforms, peninsulas, things we’ve been covering in the classroom.”

Meanwhile, students back near the parking lot were busy learning about fly-fishing lures. Mr. Olivari, a member of the Fly Fishing Federation, was on hand as he has been for the past few fourth grade excursions. He donates his time every year and makes each student a fly to take home.

The fishing trip is also an art lesson for the kids, who learned about photo developing using solar paper. Mrs. Braddock had an array of items the kids could set on the paper and create a shadowy image.

The few fish that were caught were instant celebrities, with brave students given the chance to touch it or throw it back. Which will give them, like years of fourth-graders before them, a terrific fish tale to tell at the dinner table.

Rating the Suburbs

For the third year in a row, the Rocky River City School District is ranked second in Cleveland Magazine’s June 2014 issue, Rating the Suburbs. Rankings for education are awarded based on the total scores in each category such as national and state test scores, attendance, graduation rate and curriculum offerings. Ohio Department of Education district data files provide the information used.

A New Playground for Goldwood

Any child can tell you: playing is serious business. At Rocky River’s Goldwood Primary School, the grown-ups know it too. That’s why a group of parents undertook a playground renovation for the school, with the support of the community.

A few years ago, parents started noticing that the playground at Goldwood, which serves pre-schoolers through second graders, was in need of a little sprucing up. Mom Deb DeCarlo met with Goldwood’s Principal, Carol Rosiak, and posed the question: is the Goldwood playground ready for a facelift?

The principal agreed it was, and a committee was born. Parents Beth McBride, Erin Konet, and Liz Harmath are co-chairs of the Playground Renovation Committee, and in February of 2013, committee representatives presented their idea to the Rocky River Board of Education. “Our plan was just to let them know what we wanted to do and why,” Beth McBride recalls. “We did not expect any district funding. But the board said, ‘we think this is a great idea and we want to partner with you.’ They gave us the first donation towards the project. It was a huge surprise and a huge boost.”

Shortly after that, the group was awarded a generous grant from the Rocky River Education Foundation. The Lakewood and Rocky River Rotary and the Rocky River Women’s League pitched in too. The grassroots efforts to raise funds for a new playground involved sending out a brochure to detail the fund drive, complete with donation levels ranging up to naming rights for $20,000.

The new playground will incorporate four existing structures (including the much-loved dinosaur!) and add nearly three dozen new play components, including 5 slides and a capacity for more than 110 children. The committee is especially pleased to note that no existing blacktop or green space will be sacrificed for the project.

The playground will be installed during the summer and a ribbon-cutting ceremony is scheduled for August 15, 2014 at 4 PM, rain or shine.

RR Education Foundation Funds Biggest Year Ever

The 2013-2014 school year is Rocky River Education Foundation's biggest year ever! Fall 2013 and Spring 2014 grant awards to teachers totaled over $48,000.

Fall 2013 grant awards totaled over $14,000 plus an additional $10,000 donation to the new Goldwood playground.

The Spring 2014 grant awards include funding for:

- Math applications for iPads for Goldwood Primary School.
- New hardcover biographies for the Kensington Intermediate School library.
- Common Core math learning stations for use by third graders at KIS. RREF doubled the requested amount.
- Music enhancement for grades 3-5 at KIS to improve instruments for Beginning Band Night in the fall.
- Forty-five students from Rocky River Middle School to participate in the National History Day competition in March at the Western Reserve Historical Society. The group went on to take first place with its Japanese American exhibit and will move on in the competition.
- Multi-sensory teaching equipment at RRMS which includes exercise balls, headphones, and writing gel pads.
- Two ELMO projectors and magnifying lenses to project items onto SMART Boards for the RRMS science department.
- The expansion of the RRHS's choral music library.
- A partnership between the RRHS art and special education departments to bring in a professional artist and provide supplies for forty students to complete silk painting projects.

In addition to its grant program, RREF kicked off funding efforts for the Rocky River City Schools Speaker Series. Rocky River City Schools has been fortunate the past two years to have noted authors Loung Ung and James Swanson speak to the student body and the community as part of RRHS's summer reading program. RREF, which helped fund the substantial cost of having these speakers appear, recognized the impact such speakers had on our students and the larger community and wanted to help ensure that the school district would be able to continue to bring in quality speakers. As a result, RREF had a special fundraising effort at its annual auction and raised just under $15,000 for the Speaker Series to bring authors/speakers annually to schools throughout the district. RREF will continue its own fundraising efforts and look to partner with other organizations to help bring in author/speakers to one or more schools in the district each year.

Support for our students does not end at graduation. RREF works with a host of generous donors to administer scholarships to RRHS seniors. We are proud to announce that at the Spring Recognition Ceremony on May 22nd, over $45,000 in 40 scholarships were awarded to the class of 2014.

With the generosity of the Rocky River community, local businesses, and RRCS's teachers, staff, and administration, Rocky River Education Foundation continues its mission to help enrich the educational experiences of our students.

Summer Work at RRHS

It is going to be another busy summer at Rocky River High School. The RRHS smoke stack is coming down and the stadium is getting a new turf field.

No longer used, the smoke stack will be removed over the summer and the courtyard renovated to create an outdoor space for students. Access to sections of the high school will be limited during the removal period.

The stadium will be closed from Monday, June 9 through Sunday, July 27 in order to replace the turf field. Ramps will be constructed to move equipment on and off the field and protect the track. The entire stadium area will be an active construction site, thus not accessible to the public for safety reasons. Public access will resume on Monday, July 28.

Please check the district website at rrcs.org for updates.

Rocky River Campus Foundation

The mission of the Campus Foundation is to enhance and enrich the campus setting of all Rocky River City School District buildings. Rocky River High School was the first project the Campus Foundation undertook. Naming rights have been sold for various landscaping plots around the building but there are still some available at various price points. There are also opportunities to contribute to purchase trees, benches and picnic tables throughout the campus.

The Campus Foundation plans to continue on in perpetuity. They will be paying for maintenance of the beds, sprinkler systems, fall clean up, etc. Please consider naming the Rocky River Campus Foundation, Inc. in your estate planning.

Please feel free to contact one of the Board Members listed below if you would like to support the Campus Foundation.
