

Scientist of the Week

Dear Scientist of the Week _____,

Congratulations! It is your turn to perform a science experiment for our class. Please have a family member help you select a simple science experiment that you can perform by yourself. Please practice at home so you will know exactly what to do. Your family can help you practice at home, but you will have to demonstrate the experiment without their help for our class. You will perform your experiment on _____.

Don't forget to bring all the materials you will need for your experiment. Be sure to fill out the Lab Report and bring it back to school with our Scientist of the Week Class Journal. Try to choose an experiment that has not already been done by one of your classmates. You may wear the special lab coat and goggles when presenting your experiment to the class.

Good luck and happy experimenting!

Your teacher,

Mrs. Walsh ☺
